Factual background

Taylor swift, James Douglas Baldridge, Venable LLC, neal and harwell,william T ramsey,mariam n stockton , and mazianio s reliford are actively involved in a RICO conspiracy involving fraudulent Trademarks trademarks (1989 sn: 86363039) and (1989 sn: 86369161) because swifts name of her album is called (T.S. 1989) sn:86369455 not (1989) they have actively been protecting fraudulent trademarks (1989 sn: 86363039) and (1989 sn: 86369161).

the following cases have been against Taylor swift, her companies and her lawyers for the following reasons (fraudulent trademarks) (1989 sn: 86363039) and (1989 sn: 86369161), for violating my 5th and 14th amendment rights of due process and RICO violations stemming from the (wire fraud)18 U.S.C. 1343 by swifts lawyers uploaded images and other filing on pacer.gov for all my federal cases more then 12 federal cases and caselink for case 21c444 also sending me copy's is acts of mail fraud 18 U.S.C. 10 have allowed fraudulent Trademarks (1989 sn: 86363039) and (1989 sn:

12 those trademarks prevent me due to the trademark act of 1984 from selling shirts
13 that say 1989 on it the year of my birth without committing a 3rd degree felony.

7 complaint and a signed affidavit explaining swifts crimes in detail, on the arresting 8 affidavit by officer Andrew Mullen which he stated (the defendant was trying to 9 serve federal rico violations paperwork to a resident) admitting he knew swift 10 lives at the house and address, he later stated (the defendant was there to serve 11 papers and to make a citizens arrest. Officer MULLEN has blatantly admitted that 12 he not only knew why I was there but after understating why I was there, 13 feloniously obstructing my legitimate citizen's arrest also protecting SWIFT from 14 arrest in the process.

15 by officer Andrew Mullen placing me under arrest for 3rd degree trespass.

11 Memorandum of law to bring this lawsuit.

12 1. the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations aCt (RICO), 18 U.S.C. '

13 1961-1968, which is Title IX of the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970 (OCCA),

14 imposes criminal and civil liability upon persons who engage in certain "prohibited

15 Activities," each of which is defined to include, as a necessary element, proof of a

16 "pattern of racketeering activity." ' 1962. "Racketeering activity" means "any act

17 or threat involving" specified state law crimes, any "act" indictable under

1 specified federal statutes, and certain federal "offenses." ' 1961(1). A "pattern"
2 requires "at least two acts of racketeering activity" within a 10-year period. '
3 19651(5).

5 Continuity of racketeering activity likewise may be demonstrated in a variety of 6 ways. Continuity is centrally a temporal concept, and may be either closed—or
7 open-ended. A party alleging a RICO violation may demonstrate continuity over a
8 closed period by proving a series of related predicates extending over a
9 substantial period of time.

10
11 (c) Neither RICO's language nor its legislative history supports a rule that a 12 defendant's racketeering activities form a pattern only if they are characteristic of 13 organized crime. No such restriction appears in RICO's test. Nor is there any
14 language suggesting that RICO's scope should be limited to acts of an association
15 rather than an individual acting alone.

1 A line of cases hold that any governmental agency, court, political office or the 2 like could serve as a RICO "enterprise." United States v. Thompson, 685 F.2d 993,
3 999 (6th Cir. 1982)(en banc) cert. denied, 459 U.S. 1072 (1983). Among the 4 government units that have been held to be "enterprises" are offices of governors
5 and state legislators, courts, court clerks' offices. See e.g., United States v.
6 Stratton, 649 F.2d 1066, 1072-75 (5th Cir. 1981); United States v. Clark, 656 F.2d
7 1259, 1261-67 (8th Cir. 1981) Office of county judge); United States v. Frumento,
8 405 F. Supp. 23, 29-30 (E.D. Pa. 1975), affd, 563 F.2d 1083 (3d Cir. 1977). cert, 9 debued, 434 U.S. 1072 (1978).

11 Decisions after Frumento expanded government activity to every conceivable
12 government agency, court, or political office. United States v. Thompson, 669 F.2d
13 1143 (6th Cir), revd 685 F.2d 993 (6th Cir. 1982)(en banc), cert. denied, 459 U.S.
14 1072 (1983)

15
16 · Each of these criminal acts were compounded by the fact that they were 17 perpetrated by people in positions of trust, who were paid to enforce the law.

1 Expanding on the number of parties involved in the series of predicate acts
2 were the unknown-but suspected-U.S. Department of Justice-parties that were 3 orchestrating the multiple schemes and conspiracies and protecting each of the 4 criminal acts of each and every one.

6 Title 18 U.S.C. § 1962(a) provides:

8 Title 18 U.S.C. § 1962(d) makes it "unlawful for any person to conspire to violate 9 any of the provisions of subsections (a), (b), or (c) of this section."

10
11 In Beauford v. Helmsley, S. Ct. (1989), the Supreme Court held that it is 12 not necessary to prove that multiple schemes, episodes or transactions occurred 13 in order to establish a "pattern of racketeering activity," as long as the 14 racketeering acts were "neither isolated nor sporadic."

15
16 Mail and wire fraud were a part of the scheme, as defendants used the mails and 17 telephone to carry out their schemes. The mails were used in filing court papers,

1 used to notify plaintiff of these filings, More than two, actually dozens of 2 instances, of such mail and wire fraud occurred, in a pattern of racketeering 3 activity.

4 In H.J. Inc. v. Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. vs. U.S. (June 26, 1989), the 5 court held:

6 The Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations aCt (RICO), 18 U.S.C. ' 1961-
7 1968, which is Title IX of the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970 (OCCA),
8 imposes criminal and civil liability upon persons who engage in certain "prohibited
9 Activities," each of which is defined to include, as a necessary element, proof of a
10 "pattern of racketeering activity." ' 1962. "Racketeering activity" means "any act
11 or threat involving" specified state law crimes, any "act" indictable under 12 specified federal statutes, and certain federal "offenses." ' 1961(1). A "pattern"
13 requires "at least two acts of racketeering activity" within a 10-year period. ' 1965(5).
14 1965(5).

16 Continuity of racketeering activity likewise may be demonstrated in a variety of 17 ways. Continuity is centrally a temporal concept, and may be either closed-or 18 open-ended. A party alleging a RICO violation may demonstrate continuity over a

1 closed period by proving a series of related predicates extending over a
2 substantial period of time.

4 (c) Neither RICO's language nor its legislative history supports a rule that a
5 defendant's racketeering activities form a pattern only if they are characteristic of 6 organized crime. No such restriction appears in RICO's test. Nor is there any
7 language suggesting that RICO's scope should be limited to acts of an association
8 rather than an individual acting alone.

10 RICO Requires no more than a slight effect upon interstate commerce.
11 United States v. Doherty, 867 F.2d 47, 68 (1st Cir. 1989). United States v. Murphy, 12 768 F.2d 1518, 1531 (7th Cir. 1985). cert. denied, 106 S.Ct. 1188 (1986).

14 The racketeering activity is not required to benefit the enterprise. The 15 participants in the scheme are not required to have personally profited, though 16 some did. United States v. Killip, 819 F.2d 1542, 1`549 (10th Cir. 1987.

1 Congress limited the force of Rule 8(b) by loosening the statutory requirements
2 for what constitutes joint criminal activities. United States v. Friedman, 854 F.2d
3 535, 561 (2d Cir. 1988); United States v. Castellano, 610 F.Supp. 1359, 1396
4 (S.D.N.Y. 1985). If a defendant is not named in a conspiracy or RICO count, he may 5 be charged in a separate court, in the same indictment, if he is alleged to have 6 participated in the same series of acts or transactions that constituted the 7 conspiracy or RICO offense.

9 Civil Liability

10 Section 1964(c) of the RICO Act also allows civil claims against anyone accused 11 of a RICO violation. When a civil RICO claim is successfully established, the 12 injured person automatically receives a judgment of three times the amount of 13 their actual damages, plus legal fees

14
15 RICO employs broad definitions to sweep a wide variety of enterprise criminal
16 activity into its purview. One of the original goals of RICO was to eliminate 17 organized-crime families. However, because Congress could not legislate against 18 specific persons or families, it was forced to use broad language to define

1 racketeering and organized crime. The far-reaching language of the statute has 2 subjected a wide range of criminal defendants to RICO's penalties. The typical 3 RICO defendant is far from the stereotypical violent mobster. A RICO defendant 4 can be anyone who uses a business (including courts of law) in any way to 5 commit two or more of the many racketeering offenses.

7 Void judge's orders

9 1. A judge is an officer of the court, as well as are all attorneys. A state judge is a 10 state judicial officer, paid by the State to act impartially and lawfully. A federal 11 judge is a federal judicial officer, paid by the federal government to act
12 impartially and lawfully. State and federal attorneys fall into the same general
13 category and must meet the same requirements. A judge is not the court.

14 People v. Zajic, 88 Ill.App.3d 477,

16 2. "Fraud upon the court" occurs whenever any officer of the court commits 17 fraud before a tribunal. A judge is not a court; he is under law an officer of the

1 court, and he must not engage in any action to deceive the court. Trans Aero Inc.
2 v. LaFuerga Area Boliviana, 24 F.3d 457 (2nd Cir. 1994); Bulloch v. United States,
3 763 F.2d 1115, 1121 (10th Cir. 1985) (fraud upon the court exists "where the 4 judge has not performed his duty).

6 3. Whenever any officer of the court commits fraud during a proceeding in the 7 court, he/she is engaged in "fraud upon the court". In Bulloch v. United States,
8 763 F.2d 1115, 1121 (10th Cir. 1985),

9 the court stated "Fraud upon the court is fraud which is directed to the judicial 10 machinery itself and is not fraud between the parties or fraudulent documents, 11 false statements or perjury. ... It is where the court or a member is corrupted or 12 influenced or influence is attempted or where the judge has not performed his 13 judicial function --- thus where the impartial functions of the court have been 14 directly corrupted."" "Fraud upon the court" has been defined by the 7th Circuit
15 Court of Appeals to "embrace that species of fraud which does, or attempts to,
16 defile the court itself, or is a fraud perpetrated by officers of the court so that the 17 judicial machinery can not perform in the usual manner its impartial task of 18 adjudging cases that are presented for adjudication." Kenner v. C.I.R., 387 F.3d 689

(1968); 7 Moore's Federal Practice, 2d ed., p. 512, ¶ 60.23. The 7th Circuit further stated "a decision produced by fraud upon the court is not in essence a decision at all, and never becomes final."

4. What effect does an act of "fraud upon the court" have upon the court proceeding? "Fraud upon the court" makes void the orders and judgments of that court. The U.S. Supreme Court has consistently held that a void order is void at all times, does not have to be reversed or vacated by a judge, can not be made valid by any judge, nor does it gain validity by the passage of time. The order is void ab initio.

Valley v. Northern Fire & Marine Ins. Co., 254 U.S. 348, 41 S.Ct. 116 (1920).

"Fraud destroys the validity of everything into which it enters," Nudd v. Burrows (1875), 91 US 426, 23 Led 286, 290; particularly when "a judge himself is a party to the fraud," Cone v. Harris (Okl. 1924), 230 P. 721, 723. Windsor v. McVeigh (1876), 93 US 276, 23 Led 914, 918.

5.A judgment may not be rendered in violation of constitutional protections.

The validity of a judgment may be affected by a failure to give the constitutionally required due process notice and an opportunity to be heard. Earle v. McVeigh, 91 US 503, 23 L Ed 398. See also Restatements, Judgments ' 4(b). Prather vLoyd, 86 Idaho 45, 382 P2d 910.

6. The limitations inherent in the requirements of due process and equal protection of the law extend to judicial as well as political branches of government, so that a judgment may not be rendered in violation of those constitutional limitations and guarantees. 11 Memorandum for punitive damage's

12 Because punitive damages are intended to punish the wrongdoer, a wealthy 13 wrongdoer should face a higher punitive damages award than a less wealthy 14 party. Neal v Farmers Ins. Exch. (1978)21 C3d 910, 928, 148 CR 389 ("the function 15 of deterrence . . . will not be served if the wealth of the defendant allows him or 16 her to absorb the award with little or no discomfort"). Little v Stuyvesant Life Ins.

2 CA4th 1566, 1595, 36 CR2d 343. [a]lthough appellate courts have sometimes used
3 the terms "wealth," "financial condition" and "net worth" interchangeably
4 [citations], clearly these terms are not synonymous. And, while "net worth" is 5 probably the financial measurement most often used in setting the amount of 6 punitive damages, no court has held that it is the only permissible measurement.
7 See also Cheung v Daley (1995)35 CA4th 1673, 1677, 42 CR2d 164; Kizer v County
8 of San Mateo (1991) 53 C3d 139, 147, 279 CR 318. In Clark v McClurg (1932) 215 C
9 279, 9 P2d 505, however, an award of $5000 in punitive damages was upheld
10 when the jury left blank the space for actual damages.

11 In Cheung, defendant was accused of fraudulently transferring real property to 12 evade satisfaction of a nuisance judgment against him. The jury found that 13 plaintiff was entitled to compensatory damages in the amount of $0. The jury 14 further found that by making the fraudulent transfers, defendant had acted with 15 fraud, oppression, or malice, and awarded punitive damages. On appeal, the 16 court concluded that "the rule of Mother Cobb's Chicken -- that an award of 17 exemplary damages must be accompanied by an award of compensatory 18 damages—is still sound. That rule cannot be deemed satisfied where the jury has

1 made an express determination not to award compensatory damages." 35 CA4th
2 at 1677.

11 CR 389. Accordingly, punitive damages should not be greater than the amount
12 necessary to accomplish these goals. Weeks v Baker & McKenzie (1998)63 CA4th
13 1128, 1166, 74 CR2d 510; Michelson v Hamada (1994)29 CA4th 1566, 1593, 36
14 CR2d 343; Neal v Farmers Ins. Exch. (1978)21 C3d 910, 928 n13, 148 CR 389 ("the 15 function of punitive damages is not served by an award which, in light of the 16 defendant's wealth and the gravity of the particular act, exceeds the level 17 necessary to properly punish and deter").

The deterrence justification for punitive damages is motivated by two objectives: (1) to deter the specific defendant in the case from repeating or continuing his, her, or its offensive behavior and (2) to deter, generally, other potential parties from committing similar offenses. See Restatement (Second) of Torts §908. This rationale of deterrence is especially strong in cases in which other measures of civil damages, and the unlikely prospect of criminal prosecution, are together insufficient to prevent an individual or entity from engaging in a wrongful act. Indeed, absent the fear of punitive damages, a defendant may have little incentive to discontinue the unlawful or harmful conduct.

determine the amount of punitive damages to award, the Book of Approved Jury Instructions (BAJI) states that the jury should consider:

(1) The reprehensibility of the conduct of the defendant.

(2) The amount of punitive damages which will have a deterrent effect on the defendant in the light of defendant's financial condition.

Even if plaintiff suffers only minimal damage, willful and intentional misconduct may be basis for award of punitive damages, In re Baker, 18 B.R. 243, 245 (Bankr. WDNY 1982).

1 Punitive damages may be awarded in a tort action arising from the parties
2 contractual relationship and other matters if the plaintiff demonstrates; (1) that 3 the defendant's conduct is actionable as independent tort; (2) the tortious 4 conduct is of an egregious nature; (3) the egregious conduct is directed toward 5 the plaintiff; (4) the defendant's conduct is part of a pattern directed at the public
6 generally, Conocophillips v. 261 E. Merrick Rd. Corp., 428 F.Supp.2d 111, 129
7 (EDNY 2006).

8 punitive damages should be reserved for cases where defendant acted with the 9 degree of malice akin to the mens rea required for most crimes, Jeffries v.
10 Harleston, 21 F.3d 1238, 1249, cert. granted, vacated on other grounds, 513 U.S.
11 996 (1994).

12 In federal cases, the factfinder may award punitive damages if the defendant's 13 conduct "was malicious, oppressive or in reckless disregard of the plaintiff's 14 rights, Generally, punitive damages can be awarded in an amount up to the 15 greater of $500,000.00 or three times the amount of compensatory damages.
16 Fla. Stat. 768.73(1)(a) However, the amount of punitive damages may be greater 17 upon proof that the conduct was motivated by unreasonable financial gain or specific intent to harm. No cap in Florida if intent was on purpose for punitive damages.

Vicariously assessed punitive damages are insurable in Florida. U.S. Concrete Pipe Co., 437 So. 2d 1061. See also Highlands Ins. Co. v. McCutchen, 486 So. 2d 4 (Fla. Dist. Ct. App. 1986).

There is no maximum dollar amount of punitive damages that a defendant can be ordered to pay. In response to judges and juries which award high punitive damages verdicts, the Supreme Court carved out a notable exception to this rule of proportionality in the case of TXO Production Corp. v. Alliance Resources Corp., where it affirmed an award of $10 million in punitive damages, despite the compensatory damages being only $19,000, a punitive-to-compensatory ratio of more than 526.
